2015 marks Jackson Township's bicentennial

Jackson Township is celebrating its 200th anniversary in 2015 with a local history play, fire station open house and partnership with local businesses to share in the promotion of the township's bicentennial by offering discounts to residents.

Founded on March 6, 1815, Jackson Township was originally part of Franklin Township and has grown to a population of 41,500 making it the most populated of the 17 townships in Franklin County.

Bicentennial play in May

The Little Theatre Off Broadway is producing a performance written by Playwright Jeremy Sony entitled "The Century Box" that will weave an entertaining story of the founding of the City of Grove City and early years of Jackson Township. Characters in the play will portray William Foster Breck and Hugh Grant who were among the other early pioneer settlers of Jackson Township and founders of the City of Grove City.

The bicentennial play will be performed at 8 p.m. May 29, 2015; 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. May 30, 2015; and 2 p.m. May 31, 2015 at the auditorium at Central Crossing High School, 4500 Big Run South Road in Grove City, Ohio.

All performances are free, but donations to the Little Theatre Off Broadway would be greatly appreciated.

Redeem wooden nickels for discounts

Residents and visitors throughout 2015 can receive souvenir wooden nickels at local community events including "The Century Box" and May 2, 2015 Community Environmental Day redeemable for preferred customer discounts at local business partners that have a bicentennial window cling displayed. Three service department employees spent 486 hours plowing and salting township roads. This spring, the crew used six tons of patch mix filling potholes caused by winter weather.

Station 204 receives green building award

Jackson Township's newest Fire Station 204 on Buckeye Parkway was awarded the Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design gold-certified plaque from the U.S. Green Building Council. The LEED green building certification program recognizes best-in-class building strategies and practices.

"I applaud the township for making responsible decisions when it came to the selection of high-quality, durable, low-maintenance materials," said Joe Weithman, president, Mull & Weithman Architects.

Jackson Township is celebrating its 200th anniversary in 2015. It is hard to imagine how different life was in 1815, just a dozen years after Ohio became a state. The fire department has changed a great deal since its founding in 1936 as the Grove City-Jackson Township Fire Department with Olen Rumsfeld as chief.

Back then, our fire department was the only one operating west of the Scioto River outside the Columbus city limits. There was one fire station located on the current site of the Grove City Library where firefighters would meet when called to a fire and respond on a 1922 Reo-Seagrave pumper.

The Jackson Township Fire Department was formed in May 1945, and 11 years later, a new engine house was opened on South Broadway. In 1957, the department put its first emergency squad into service staffed solely by volunteers.

As the City of Grove City, Village of Urbancrest and Jackson Township continued to grow, the fire department constantly adjusted to the shifting population by ensuring fire stations were as accessible as possible to the population. Jackson Township's grand opening of Station 204 on Buckeye Parkway was May 3, 2014, and firefighter/paramedics have taken about 50 emergency runs per week since it opened.

This much-needed station was the first additional fire station for the fire department since 1978 when Station 203 was added. In our business, response time is critical, and we are now able to better serve our residents. A breakdown of the 2,079 Station 204 emergency responses through Feb. 28, 2015 follows.

- Fire: 228 (11 percent)
- Fire/EMS: 379 (18 percent)
- EMS: 1,472 (71 percent)

Station 204 also was instrumental in helping the fire department achieve an improved (Level 2) ISO rating putting us in the top 1.5 percent of all fire departments in the United States. This rating helps insurance companies establish appropriate premiums for residential and commercial properties, and benefits Jackson Township residents because insurance companies know that we are able to quickly respond to emergencies throughout the township.

We are proud of our long history of service to our residents and look forward to continuing to exceed your expectations for years to come.
